

ESCH MAY BE ON GOMPERS' "BLACK LIST"

LABOR LEADER TO TRY TO COWER ALL CONGRESSMEN

But Esch was Fighting for a Labor Bill and was Friendly

TOLD GOMPERS STAND WAS A MISTAKE

Telegraphic Advices Indicate Unionists will try to Kill off all Officeholders who do not Bow to Labor's Sovereignty

President Gompers of the "labor trust" will annihilate all officeholders who have been at all unfriendly to his "labor bill grievances." At least that is the threat of the labor magnate.

Congressman Esch, while in Washington told Gompers he was making a mistake by taking this stand, and it is now a matter of conjecture, whether the leader of unionists has Esch among the "black list," or upon the friendly side, where he has always been.

A telegram from Washington today says:

"Samuel Gompers, in his campaign, wrote to congressmen demanding their views upon his 'labor bill grievances,' sent to the president.

"He says he received many replies, and declares all not for labor will be treated as against with no equivocations.

"They must favor all Gompers' demands or be fought by organized labor," he says.

Congressman Esch said today that at the time Gompers presented his grievances to the president and to Cannon during the last session, all congressmen received a copy of his grievance and a letter asking for a statement of their views on the subject. Mr. Esch says that many of the congressmen did not even reply to the letter. Others did.

"In replying," said Mr. Esch, "I merely told Gompers he was making a mistake, in my opinion for taking this stand.

"I am sure I do not know how he has me slated in his campaign, but I am of the opinion that I am on the 'sunny' side. I was at that time, and for some time before, making a fight for the bill limiting the working hours of railroad employees, and this had the sanction and co-operation of the unionists, so I hardly think he will have me blacklisted from what ails contained in my letter; there was nothing unfriendly to labor in it."

The fight which has been instituted by Gompers is creating a great deal of sentiment against the labor leader throughout the country and even in La Crosse much talk is heard in regard to his plan to "annihilate all who dare oppose him." It is not considered the general mass of laboring men will take up the fight, which has been instituted by Gompers and there is every indication that his anarchistic efforts will fall flat, even among the unionists he represents.

ITALIANS START FOR ENGINEER OF TRAIN WHICH TWO WERE KILLED

CHARLOTTE, Mich., Aug. 22.—Two Italian laborers are dead, two may die, and fifteen more are lying injured in the Charlotte house, as a result of an accident on the Michigan Central road, two miles east of here, yesterday afternoon.

As soon as the uninjured Italians realized that their fellows had been killed and injured they rushed for the engineer, who ran his engine up the track and escaped.

A work train crew was relaying tracks. The engine of the train in some unexplained manner was backed into the train while fifty laborers were eating dinner. A majority of the men were sitting on several flat cars, which were wrecked and thrown off the track.

One of the laborers was instantly killed. Another was so badly hurt that he lived only a short time.

A relief train sent from here brought the dead and injured hither, where the latter were given medical attention.

The injuries of the fifteen men range from broken legs and cut heads to smashed fingers.

$60,000,000 WILL COVER VALPARISO LOSS

Heavy rains at Santiago flooded the river and added to the suffering.

Probably $60,000,000 will cover the loss.

The estimate of 2,000 dead still holds.

Sixty thousand are dependent upon the relief bureau.

CHICAGO IS SWELTERING

Heat here is Almost Unendurable, but Relief is Promised

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22.—Daily being promised relief from the heat and great humidity, Chicago is again sweltering today.

The roll of dead and prostrated is growing and showers come instead of relief and add to the humidity.

Atmospheric freaks are frequent. The schooner Hattie Hutt was struck by a gale which blew to a tempest. She was stripped of her cordage and every sail aboard, and was threatened with destruction.

A mile away the schooner Presumption sailed placidly on smooth waters. The gale ceased as suddenly as it started. The Hutt awoke to port.

Wants his Son Pardoned

FORT ATKINSON, Wis., Aug. 22.—J. M. Fuller of this city, is out with a petition asking a pardon for his son, William M. Fuller, who, in April, 1898, was sentenced in the circuit court of Dane county to imprisonment for life, for the alleged murder of an aged couple in that county.

Evidence at the time of the trial tended to show that the deed was committed by Fuller and W. H. Bestor, who has since died at the prison at Waupun. Prior to his death he confessed that Fuller was entirely innocent of the crime, and he (Bestor) alone was guilty. Fuller not even knowing of the murder until after the deed was done.

PAY REDS EARLY TO EDUCATE THEM

Congressman Esch takes up matter of Early Payment of Pooy Lo

The annual enrollment and payment of the Winnebago Indians is now taking place.

The Indians are enrolled every year and immediately after the enrollment a sum amounting to about $19 is paid each one from a trust fund.

The payment this year is unusually early and numerous complaints are being made by people who are closely connected with the Indians who claim that the money when paid so early is all spent by the time winter comes and that the Indians are penniless and are in a great way dependent in the winter.

Congressman Esch took the matter up with the department in Washington, but received word to the effect that the department had made a thorough investigation of the affair and found that it was necessary to pay now in order to insure the attendance of the Indian children at the various Indian schools.

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.) HAVANA, Aug. 22.—The rebel forces, it is reported, won a victory before daylight this morning.

General Pino Guerra attacked the rurales' outposts at Pinar del Rio City and drove them back to town. The insurgents did not follow up their advantage because they are awaiting reinforcements.

U. S. Won't "But in"

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The president has received no information of the Cuban revolt. This country has no intention of hurrying pell mell into any revolution.

The Cuban government is presumed to be able to control and this government does not want to be placed in the position of seizing the first opportunity to rush into Cuba and emphasize the necessity of annexation.

It desires to convince the world the little republic is entirely free, independent and stable.

Human Vulture Sentenced

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Henry Alford Short, 47 years old, a broker and a clubman, pleaded guilty yesterday to criminal assault and abduction, and was sentenced to five years at hard labor in Sing Sing prison.

Short, with a woman named Barbara Livingston, was arrested early in July at 903 Sixth avenue by agents of the Children's society.

In sentencing Short, Judge Rosalsky said: "You have been engaged in the most outrageous practices that any man could descend to. Your conduct has been that of a human vulture."

During the heavy storm last evening a short piece of track was washed out on the Burlington road a little north of Stoddard.

No. 47 was about eight hours late this morning and No. 49 was delayed about four hours.

All the southbound trains were also delayed.

Several cars were derailed and one cattle car was ignited, but the stock it contained was rescued before it was injured.

The washout was a serious one, though the passenger trains were at no time in danger.

FUNERAL PROHIBITED BY THE BISHOP

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 22.—For some reason not yet explained Bishop McCloskey yesterday refused to permit funeral services over the late Spalding Coleman, a member of the board of public works, who dropped dead in the city hall last Saturday morning.

St. Louis Bertrand church was crowded when the funeral cortege arrived. Included in the assemblage were the mayor and city officials.

The services had proceeded as far as blessing the flowers. There came a pause which lengthened into thirty minutes. Then, after a conference between relatives and officiating priests, the Rev. Father Flood stated that Bishop McCloskey had prohibited the holding of the services there.

The casket was borne to St. Andrews' Episcopal church, where simple services were held.

The incident had created tremendous excitement. Relatives and friends of the decedent say they must have an apology from the bishop, otherwise the matter will be taken to Rome.

The storm followed three hottest days that Shebovgan has experienced in several years and broke with unusual suddenness, the weather of the last three days has averaged 90 degrees in the shade and several prostrations from heat have been recorded. A crowd of 15,000 was in the tents when the storm broke.

Wartinbee Home is Visited

FREAKS OF STRANGE BOLT

Lightning Leaps About Bed of Deaf Girl and away Leaving Her Unhurt

One of the most terrific bolts of lightning that has ever been heard of in this vicinity struck the large frame residence of F. D. Wartinbee, 1444 Wood street, last night at 11 o'clock, shaking the ground for several blocks around and filling every house in the vicinity with blue smoke and sulphur fumes.

The lightning struck the point of the front gable of the house and divided into two separate bolts, each descending along the inside of the gutters of metal to the edges of the roof where their courses were again diverted and sent into various directions throughout the building. All the upper rooms are strewn with splinters of wood.

From the inside of the attic a small aperture can be seen where the lightning entered. One bolt then followed the "valley tin" to the attic floor where there is a hole about nine inches in diameter, through which it passed in its downward flight, into a large bedroom. It struck the sill of one of the bay windows slightly charring it, and then passed through the windowpane, leaving a hole about two feet square.

When it struck the sill the lace curtain was set on fire. Miss Belle Wartinbee, who is mute, was sleeping in this room when the bolt struck. She indicates that the bed seemed to sway to and fro and that she was somewhat blinded by the liquid stream, but that she was not affected by the electricity at all, and the fact that she does not hear, perhaps saved her from being affected by the noise of the bolt. She screamed and rapped upon the floor as soon as the bolt had struck and Mr. Wartinbee at once rushed upstairs where the rooms were so full of smoke that he could hardly see and the sulphur fumes suffocated him.

Several boards were torn off the eaves and under them, after the bolt had passed through the window, Mrs. Wartinbee says that if Lois and her sister had been at home they would have had a very close call as the bolt passed within a few feet of the end of the bed and she says they generally sleep with their heads, nearest the window. They are at present visiting at Denver.

In the adjoining room, in the front of the residence, plaster was knocked off the south wall for a space of about three square yards.

The other bolt which passed to the north of the house must have gone alone the outside until it got to the eaves when it probably went between the wall, as the northwest corner of the house bulges out as if forced out by the flight of the lightning.

The telephone wiring which was along this corner of the house was broken and lay upon the ground wire in the basement had been burned off. A charred spot can also be seen on the plaster beneath the electric bells, where the lightning no doubt passed on the wiring.

Help Those Who

There is nothing that helps a town prosper like buying the goods it manufactures

There are represented herewith some of our most prosperous and best manufacturers of commodities—goods that are of the highest grade.

La Crosse has made wonderful strides of progress in five years. It is chiefly because the "trade at home motto" has imbued the people. Our citizens have scoffed at the highly colored and luring advertisements of the mail order grafters, which kept La Crosse in the ranks of the villages for decades, and have wisely determined to support home manufacturers—the people who support them.

DOWIE SAYS HE WILL NOT MAKE PEACE WITH VOLIVA

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22.—Peace negotiations, which have been carried on in Zion City since last Thursday between John Alexander Dowie and Wilbur Glenn Voliva, have been declared off. The following statement to this effect was given out by Dowie late yesterday afternoon:

Shiloh House, Zion City.
All the attempts at negotiations have ended in failure. I made a clean cut proposition, but Voliva and his adherents refused to consider it. Then I offered to consider a proposition from them, but it was twice stated that they had none to offer. Hence negotiations are closed and there is nothing more at this time to say.

John Alexander, First Apostle.
Just what Dowie's "clean cut" proposition was neither the principals in the controversy nor John C. Hatley, who has acted as intermediary in the affair, would say.

"As long as both parties desire a peaceful ending of the controversy," said Mr. Hatley, "I can only consider the negotiations suspended—not broken off. It would be a violation of confidence were I to discuss Dr. Dowie's proposition."

Mr. Hatley's optimism is not shared by the followers of Dowie and Voliva. Hopes of an amicable settlement of the leaders' difficulties were aroused on Sunday when Voliva asked his audience at the afternoon meeting to pray for Dowie, but by the majority of the Zionites the statement issued by the deposed leader is accepted as final.

Officers of the church were authorized for the statement that an agreement practically had been made, and the report was confirmed by Attorney S. O. Leynson for the Voliva faction. Dowie was to be head of the church and Voliva was to manage the business affairs of the city. Both sides were anxious to end the receivership.

It was thought the agreement, if finally adopted, would put an end to the candidacy of Alfred Bliss for the leadership of the city, and would preclude the necessity of the election which is scheduled to be held next month.

PATTERSON BUYS FARM, BUT SAYS HE WILL NOT TRY TO RAISE SOCIALISTS

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22.—Joseph Medill Patterson, "Comrade Patterson," as his fellow socialists call him, is now to become "Farmer Joe." Yesterday he purchased the Austin Clement farm of 221 acres, midway between Lake Forest and Libertyville, north of Chicago.

Mr. Patterson will not found a socialistic settlement on his new possessions, nor will he follow the example of Upton Sinclair, who went from Chicago and has already founded, on paper, a rural settlement for the raising of socialist babies. On the other hand, Mr. Patterson says he will raise "horses, cattle, pigs, and, perhaps, a duck or two."

"Will it be anything like Comrade Sinclair's retreat?" he was asked.

"Not a bit," he replied with enthusiasm. "It will be just an ordinary farm," he continued. "I will work it myself. I will make my home there, and expect to become quite an agriculturist. Farm life is the proper one for any man who can afford it."

Mr. Patterson explained that by "working it himself" he does not mean that he will don blue jumpers and a broad-brim straw hat to follow the spreading furrow or pitch the crinkling hay. He will "work it" in an academic manner, and real rustics with red necks and horny hands will attack the wheat when the sun registers 110 in the shade, and do the early morning milking at that other season of the year when the mercury disappears. Mr. Patterson will tell them how and inform the world of his wailing nature through the columns of the new socialist newspaper, which he is to edit.

This paper, the Chicago Daily Socialist, will occupy Mr. Patterson's hours during the day. Its publication office will be in Chicago. In the evening he will hie himself to Libertyville and drive mid the flowing kind and sweet-smelling clover to the farm.

Mr. Patterson paid $28,000 for the farm, all of which money was in his possession before he became a socialist. He will build a fine residence and otherwise improve the property. The socialistic stock farm will not be in full bloom until next summer.

New Appeal in Miller Case

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—W. A. Miller, who was discharged from the government printing office some time ago, after he had been expelled from the binders' union and was reinstated by President Roosevelt in an order declaring the government printing office an "open shop," will again appeal to the president against his more recent discharge.

The second time he was dismissed his chief alleged that he was insubordinate. Miller, it is believed, will insist this is not the real cause of his dismissal. His friends hope he will be again reinstated by the president. They say the old enmity of the labor unions is at the bottom of his later troubles, as in the first instance.

The government bookbinders have announced they will not strike to compel the reinstatement of one of their number who was recently dismissed.

Borough President
Rode in Many Autos

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—All the latest styles in motor cars are being displayed on the Long Island and Jersey roads, and at the city's expense by Borough President Bird S. Coler and his subordinates, according to Comptroller Metz. The latter, who is a motorist himself, but with his own car only and who has been relegated to a second rater by the splendid equipages of the borough president, today held up a motor car bill of Mr. Coler's for something like $1,000.

Mr. Metz' action led to the discovery that Mr. Coler and his various commissioners have not only been leading the automobile fashions, but they have outstripped every other city department in the purchase of cars.

Six new machines are charged to the borough president since Jan. 1. It also developed that Mr. Coler was riding in a city machine when he was arrested at Hackensack last week for not having a number on his machine.

It was the bill for one of these machines and some of its equipment that caught the comptroller's eye. Some of the luxurious furnishings for one of the six cars were:

One silk mohair duster.....$ 5.00
Pair of goggles..... 5.00
Linen duster..... 3.50
Another pair of goggles..... 1.50
Two rubber shirt coats..... 10.00

"What do you think of that for a friend of the people?" cried the comptroller. "Six automobiles and stuff like that to go with them. Well, I guess I'll just see what Mr. Coler has to say about it."

When he saw Mr. Coler's bill, which included $900 for a trim little runabout which the borough president had just bought for Durbin Van Vleck, his superintendent of highways, Mr. Metz recalled that a few days ago he saw Mr. Van Vleck, in pursuit of his official duties, taking a spin on the ocean parkway. The diligent superintendent of highways was accompanied by a charming young woman.

He easily passed Mr. Metz. On Sunday afternoon Mr. Metz again saw

Van Vleck spinning along the Long Island roads. Mr. Van Vleck is one of the most ardent leaders of the Hearst league in Brooklyn.

The comptroller decided to hold up the bill for this little motor car also and let Borough President Coler explain the public necessity for it. Bills for the other cars will probably be held up.

ODESSA, Aug. 22.—An American citizen named Ginson has been expelled from this city and under a policy convoy was taken to the western frontier by order of the governor general. Ginson was temporarily arrested a few months ago as an alleged political provocateur agent. On a similar charge he was rearrested a few days ago, which resulted in his expulsion from the country.

Ambassador Meyer was informed of the action taken by the Russian authorities, but said he saw no reason to protest against it. Ginson is a Russian Jew who recently took out citizenship papers.

GOVERNMENT SENDS NEGRO
TROOPS FROM BROWNSVILLE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—Orders were issued today by the military secretary, Maj. Gen. F. C. Ainsworth, for the transfer of the colored troops from Fort Brown, Tex., where there has been serious trouble between citizens and soldiers, to Fort Ringgold, Tex., which is about 11 miles above Fort Brown, and is also on the Rio Grande.

The company ordered to Fort Brown is made up of white men. This shifting about of troops was made subsequent to a report from Maj. C. W. Penrose on the situation at Fort Brown, and after an appeal by Senator Culbertson to President Roosevelt. In his report Maj. Penrose says he was persuaded that the killing of one citizen in Brownsville and the wounding of another were the work of soldiers, although he has been unable as yet to discover who the guilty men are.

Of the attitude of the citizens of Brownsville toward the negro soldiers Maj. Penrose says:

"That the enlisted men have been subjected to indignities since their arrival here there can be no doubt, and this has caused a good deal of feeling among them. The one case to which I attribute this outbreak I will make the subject of an official report as soon as John W. Vann, the collector of customs, returns to the city."

Maj. Penrose then outlines briefly the case in question. Privates Newton and Lipscomb were passing along a walk on Aug. 5 where some women were standing engaged in conversation with a man named Tate, who is employed in the customs office. The negro privates walked single file between the women and a fence. Tate knocked Newton down with the butt of a revolver, and is reported to have said: "I'll learn you to get off the sidewalk when there is a party of ladies on the walk."

When Newton rose Tate is said to have covered him with the revolver, commanding: "Damn you, leave, or I will blow your brains out." This account of the affair is corroborated by Lipscomb. Maj. Penrose sought an official investigation of the affair, but as the collector of customs, Mr. Vann, is out of the city, it has not been possible to have the affair looked into.

On Aug. 13, Maj. Penrose says, a Mr. Evans and Dr. Combe, mayor of Brownsville, called on him. Mr. Evans said his wife was seized while entering her home by a negro supposed to be a soldier, as he wore a khaki uniform. Mrs. Evans was unable to identify the man, but both she and her husband complained that the soldiers gathered near their home and annoyed them.

That evening Maj. Penrose made an attempt to get all the soldiers into the reservation early. All but two men who were out on passes were gathered into the post, but shortly after midnight the engagement which resulted so disastrously took place and the whole garrison was awakened by a fusillade. As soon as the shooting ceased and it seemed safe to make an investigation, all but two soldiers answered roll call and the rifles were all in place and showed no marks which indicated that they had been fired. Cartridges and shells made at government arsenals were found near where the shooting took place and Maj. Penrose expresses the opinion that eight or nine soldiers who had keys to the gun racks got their weapons, slipped out of the post, and engaged in the battle with citizens, and managed to clean their guns, replace them in the racks and regain their places in the barracks during the excitement which prevailed in the post.

TAMMANY TO SUP- PORT JEROME

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Jerome will receive the support of Tammany hall for governor if he secures the nomination at the democratic state convention, was the declaration made yesterday by Charles F. Murphy, leader of the organization. Tammany, Mr. Murphy said, is not committed to Hearst or anyone else. District Attorney Jerome was quoted as saying:

"I have felt doubtful about this whole situation, because I felt that I had been elected to a high office and owed a duty to it. For this and other personal reasons I felt reluctant to enter the situation in any way, particularly when I could not be sure of the duty. But presently the time came when it began to seem clear to me that the conditions were approaching the situation on which I made my fight last year—the principle of political liberty. I realize that I was not the issue in that campaign. It made very little difference whether the office was that of district attorney or a mere clerical one, or who the candidate was. It was not the office, but the issue. I felt that, having made a fight on that principle once, if the demand should come to me I could not refuse to go forward to another fight for that same principle, whatever personal reasons I might have for not desiring to. I felt I was committed to the principle—that was all."

Examination for carriers will be held soon.

WILL REFORM HIS WIFE IN JAIL

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22.—David Kane, 10 Hill street, testified in Justice Mayer's court yesterday that his wife's cravings for liquor and love of gayety had ruined his home. Mrs. Kane was arrested Sunday after she had returned home from a dance and threatened to kill her 8-months-old baby. She was fined $75 by the court and sent to the House of the Good Shepherd. At the decision of Justice Mayer the woman placed her arm around the neck of her husband and pleaded with him to take her back. Kane broke down and cried.

"Do you want your wife sent away?" Justice Mayer asked.

"Yes, your honor; for the sake of the child send her to a place where she can reform."

Mrs. Kane had to be carried from the room by policemen.

PANIC FOLLOWS A DANCE HALL DEATH

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—As the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" rang out to waltz time and Miss Raphaela Jenro whirled about a ballroom in a Staten Island resort last night with her cousin, Marie Annunzio, she exclaimed: "Isn't that beautiful? I wish I were going home."

As she spoke she sank to the floor and died instantly. A panic followed. Before order could be restored several persons had been trampled, and the dance was turned into a mad stampede. A physician decided that the girl's death was due to heart disease. Miss Jenro was only 19 years old.

NEED MORE SMALL BILLS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—Secretary Shaw yesterday made public the following statement:

"The secretary of the treasury has instructed the treasurer that when unable to meet all demands for small bills to send ones and twos in preference to fives."

"Since the secretary's circular to banks urging them to increase their notes of the denomination of $5, practically $30,000,000 in fives have been ordered, and nearly $9,000,000 have been delivered. Most of the remainder will go out in the next thirty days.

"The secretary in this authorized statement calls attention to the fact that silver certificates cannot be issued except for silver actually in the treasury. Gold and silver certificates are receipts which the government issues for an actual deposit of the kind of coin designated in the certificates. The volume, therefore, of silver certificates is limited to the amount of silver actually deposited. If the banks will return silver certificates of the higher denominations and take either the coin or silver certificates in denominations of $1 and $2, there will be no scarcity of small money."

PLUNGES 80 FEET ON DARE, THEN SWIMS TO SHORE

AMPER SAND, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Because he would not take a dare, Clifford Bihn of New York, the 18 year old son of W. A. Bihn, risked his life by an eighty-foot dive from the top of the cliff on Bluff island, the highest point on the shores of lower Saranac lake.

Young Bihn, one of the New York boys at the summer camp conducted by Dr. P. M. Siexas of New York, had gone to the top of the cliff with a number of his young friends, when one of them exclaimed:

"Bet you $25 you don't dare dive off there."

Without a word young Bihn stepped to the edge of the cliff, buttoned his coat about him, and springing out, went down like a shot to the lake surface eighty feet below. The water is about thirty feet deep where he struck, and when his terrified companions peered over the edge of the cliff they saw him rise and swim to the shore. Bihn, who refused to take the $25 offered him, is none the worse for his experience. He is the first person to dive from the summit of Bluff island cliff.

STOP BATHING

VALPARAISO, Ind., Aug. 22.—Mayor Spooner took steps to enforce the ordinance passed by the city council prohibiting bathing at Flint Lake, a summer resort near this city, from which the city gets drinking water. Names of a hundred or more people were secured and arrests will be made. The property owners held a meeting and employed Congressman Crumpacker, who will ask Judge McMahon of Crown Point for an injunction to prevent the enforcement of the ordinance. The health officers are at loggerheads over the question whether bathing in the water is injurious to the health of those who drink it and have carried the matter to the state board of health.

LEAVES DEBTS

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 22.—George Wolfe, proprietor of the Hotel Nickel, suddenly disappeared from the city early yesterday, leaving no word as to his destination. Creditors held a meeting this afternoon and as a result of their decision the sheriff attached the place, naming Mayor Louis Nickel as custodian. The Kamm & Schellinger Brewing company of Mishawaka holds a mortgage upon the place. Wolfe has kept up his payments, but there is still due about $6,000. The accounts of the place now due and payable will aggregate fully $10,000.

OPPOSES PARTY CAN- DIDATE FOR CONGRESS

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 22.—Grant Thomas of Madison, a real estate dealer and former proprietor of a Madison stock brokerage exchange, has come out as an independent candidate for congress against John M. Nelson of Madison, who received the practically unanimous nomination of the republican party, at the recent Second congressional district convention. Mr. Thomas was one of the four delegates in that convention who supported M. S. Dudgeon of Madison. The other thirty-nine delegates were for Mr. Nelson's nomination. Mr. Thomas was one of those, who, with ex-Senator George P. Miller, brought out Mr. Dudgeon and managed his campaign which failed to carry the recent caucusses which were called by Mr. Thomas, the newest candidate, as chairman of the congressional district committee.

Mr. Dudgeon will not himself be an independent candidate in the special election, but it is shown by the letter of Mr. Thomas, that the Thomas candidacy is launched in the interests of Mr. Dudgeon with reference to the primary election for the nomination as congressman for the full term.

The letter of Mr. Thomas, sent out in the Second district to members of the Dudgeon organization, is as follows:

"In response to a largely signed call, a copy of which I inclose for your information, I have decided to become a candidate for the unexpired term of congressman to be filled at the special election called for Sept. 4. It is necessary for me to file nomination papers not later than Monday. Won't you kindly help me by getting names on the inclosed blanks? Have the lists properly certified and mail them to me so that I will get them Monday morning, or not later than the noon mail. I feel that I stand a mighty good chance of winning out on this, and can surely help Dudgeon get the primary nomination for the long term."

HUGHES WON'T BE RIVAL OF HIGGINS

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Charles E. Hughes will not accept the republican nomination for governor unless Governor Higgins asks him to run. He made this statement in substance on the eve of his departure for Europe. His possible nomination had then begun to be discussed, but the demand for his nomination had not taken a form that in his opinion was serious enough to warrant a statement from him for publication.

"I do not desire to run for governor," he said. "My ambition lies in the direction of the practice of my profession. I would very much prefer to be let alone. I cannot conceive of any situation that might induce me to take the nomination unless the candidacy of W. R. Hearst should assume such serious proportions as to make it the duty of every good citizen to lay aside his personal preference to combat it. I would not think of taking the nomination under any circumstances unless it were offered to me by a united party and unanimously."

GAS GIVES OUT; GETS NO BREAKFAST

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 22.—The falling of a bridge derrick broke an eight-inch main of the South Bend Gas and Fuel company about 11 o'clock last night, and compelled the shutting off of gas in all parts of South Bend and Mishawaka. Consequently few were able to get breakfast.

A watchman at Mishawaka, on discovering the leak, was about to repair the damage with a wooden plug, but was prevented by Policeman Jarrett, who realized that hundreds of families who had allowed their gas to burn on retiring would be in danger of asphyxiation should a full flow be turned on again.

Instead, the plant was notified and ordered to cut off every bit of the supply.

PACKERS SEEK INFOR- MATION ON LABELS

JUDGES SETTLE BOYS' QUARREL

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—By a unanimous decision of the appellate division of the second department, Thos. Hall Abbott, a grandson of Former Governor Leon Abbott of New Jersey, has been honorably exonerated from the charge of assault on Gilroy Mulqueen, a grandson of Former Mayor Gilroy, on which he had been convicted in the court of special sessions and received a suspended sentence.

Even the dignified judges of the court were amused by the record of the case, which was a story of a characteristic battle between boys. The defendant was at the time 9 years old and the complainant 10. Young Mulqueen declared his left arm was broken in a fight growing out of a ball game at Edgemere.

"BIG STICK" ON IT'S WAY TO WHITE- HOUSE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 22.—Local express offices are on the lookout for a "deadhead" package labeled "Roosevelt's Big Stick," which is going around the country, to the great delight of jokers. The package was in Aberdeen, S. D., on Sunday, and was shipped hither.

Attached to the "big stick" are about 200 labels, bearing various inscriptions from different cities in Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, Missouri, Texas and Colorado. The package is now headed for the eastern states, and will ultimately end its journey at the White house. An agent of the United States Express company at Des Moines started the article on its travels.

An inscription written by a Sioux City man says:

"With a big stick like Teddy's and plenty of room to swing it, O, gee!"

A Kansas man has this to say:

"Hello, Teddy! You were a 11 to 1 shot in 1904. Missouri won't print anything but republican tickets in 1908."

Another label contains the following appeal:

"Teddy, hold your big stick over Russia, and protect the Jews from being murdered in cold blood."

An Iowa man has written the following on a label bearing a Grinnell date:

"May we always have as good a man for this big stick."

Naval Trouble is Growing

VALLEJO, Cal., Aug. 22.—The court martial of Lieut. Dunn may be only the beginning of a series of courts martial at the navy yard, as it is reported here that Rear Admiral Lyon, commandant at Mare island, has been instructed by the navy department to make a thorough investigation of the independence scandal and prefer charges against all officers who may be involved.

The trial of Dunn has brought to light the fact that for months the independence has been the scene of drunken revelries. Witnesses at the trial have testified that the incidents in the Dunn case were common on board the receiving ship.

It is said that Secretary Bonaparte is angry over what has been related by witnesses in the Dunn case, and is determined to thrash the matter out until every officer has told what he knows of the inner history of Mare island.

Many Divorces are Illegal

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Discovery was made yesterday by investigators for the United States census bureau, who are looking up divorce statistics in this city, that many of the divorce decisions in the old court of common pleas are inoperative because no decree has been entered upon the records. In hundreds of cases in which the court has ordered that decrees of divorce or separation should issue the order for judgment has not been submitted to the court by counsel for the successful party. This no final order could issue.

It is believed that in many such cases the parties to the divorce have been married again. It was stated today that such marriages are void, and can only be legalized by action of the legislature, and that much confusion and inconvenience to the interested parties are certain to ensue. The court of common pleas is no longer in existence.

ZEAL COSTS HIS LIFE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 22.—Frank Mueller, who was overcome by the heat and died yesterday, worked as a laborer at the plant of the Western Foundry and Sash Weight company, Second and Miller streets, although he was worth $40,000. Mueller preferred hard work every day to idleness and to this thrift can be attributed his death.

He was working hard as a laboring man when his fellow employes saw him stagger and fall. He arrived at the City hospital at 10 a. m., and died an hour later.

Fred Meeks, of 1619 Dolman street, a machinist, who was prostrated by heat, died today at the City hospital.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE STORY

Perhaps Governor Davidson should be nominated for governor by the republicans. Perhaps Mr. Lenroot should be nominated by the republicans. That was the main issue discussed by Senator La Follette in his speech here Monday night. The senator did one thing. He convinced everybody that this talk of his support of a candidate being an impropriety was all bosh. He did another thing. He made out a good case for Mr. Lenroot.

But he was Mr. Lenroot's champion. So, of course, he did not say any of the things that might be said in support of the theory that Davidson, and not Lenroot, is the man. He left the matter just where the plaintiff in a suit at law leaves his case before the reply of the defense. La Follette has made out a case for Lenroot. Tonight a champion of Governor Davidson will be here to make the defense. We are to see whether he has the material with which to shatter the prima facie case made out by the junior senator.

The Honorable C. W. Gillman is the man who speaks tonight in behalf of Governor Davidson. Mr. Gillman is an able talker. He probably has not the wide celebrity of Senator La Follette, but he has power and understanding, and his effort will call for no apology. He will attempt to show that Davidson is the strong and the logical and the only man for the coming hour of need. He will, we presume, be as kind to Mr. Lenroot as was Senator La Follette to Governor Davidson. He will not assail the Superior man, except by inference. But he will be a champion of Governor Davidson.

We have heard Senator La Follette. We have not decided—at least we should not have decided—until we hear the other side of the story. We should hear what Mr. Gillman has to say. Then we will have heard both sides of the story. And after summing up we will be able to select the man we think is the better man for the place.

If Mr. Gillman rests his case on the assumption that Governor Davidson is entitled to the office as a matter of course or of succession; or on the undisputed claim that he is a Norwegian by birth; or on the fact that he is a splendid fellow—if these things are the basis of his arguments he will have failed. If, however, he shall convince us that Governor Davidson is the constructive statesman a governor of Wisconsin should be in these days of activity; if he undermines the inference that Lenroot is the greater man; if he makes out a case for Governor Davidson with affirmative logic showing that he, and not Lenroot, is the greater statesman—then Governor Davidson should have the republican votes of this community.

Those who are open to argument on these points should attend the meeting tonight. There is no use of buying a cat in a bag.

The Doerflinger picnic today is one of those expressions of concord and community of interest between employer and employees that encourage the belief that we are becoming gradually Utopian. Fraternal relations of this sort are of mighty value to any enterprise. Far seeing merchants know that by being a "good fellow" with their associates and employees they are promoting success. It is just as easy to have the people who work for you, work with you; it is just as easy to have them "boosting" as "knocking."

FRENCH USE HYENA TO FIND BODY OF MISSING PRIEST

PARIS, Aug. 22.—The excitement at Chateaux and surrounding districts caused by the mysterious disappearance of a priest, Abbe Delarue, cure of Chateaux, is increasing. This chiefly is due to the Paris press, which is indulging in a sort of journalistic steeplechase as to who will make the most sensational contribution to the methods of investigation. The Matin led off by offering a reward of $200 for the Abbe Delarue, dead or alive, engaging fifty or sixty men to make a search of the whole countryside.

Another morning journal went the Matin one better by engaging the services of a Hindoo fakir rejoicing in the name of Prof. Devas, who at once gave a picturesque note to the affair. He led off by a striking success. He discovered the bicycle of the unfortunate abbe, for which the police had been vainly searching for ten days.

Twenty-four hours later a rival came on the scene. The second fakir was even blacker and more picturesque than the first. He did not, however, like Prof. Devas, trust to intuition and sense of smell. He called astrology to his aid, and is now engaged in working out the horoscope of Abbe Delarue. He claims it begins with his birth and will end at the point where his dead body is lying.

His advent seems to have stimulated the professional jealousy; journalistic and otherwise, for two more "fakirs" have appeared upon the scene, Mme. Flaubert and "Mage" Alvis. They were discovered by the Patrie, and are investigating under the aegis of that journal.

"Mage," it appears, studies flowers and foliage, and in some mysterious way hopes to make discoveries by these means.

Mme. Flaubert, in spite of her French name, it appears, the instructor of Prof. Devas, and initiated him into the mysteries of eastern lore. He proposes to join forces with that woman and conduct her at midnight to the mysterious place where he found the blood-stained knife, and on the last stroke of 12 to plunge her into a hypnotic sleep, and in this condition have her lead him to the spot where the body of the murdered abbe is interred.

This invasion of Hindoo mysticism seemed to have left the Matin out of the race, but not long. Yesterday it proposed to outdo the supernatural by natural means, and has made arrangements to borrow a hyena from a local menagerie. The animal is to be starved for three days and then turned loose in the woods of Chateaux in the hope that it will try to scratch up the dead body of Abbe Delarue.

Fears are expressed, however, lest the hungry brute, failing to find the corpse of the abbe, should turn on the spectators and eat up one or two fakirs or journalists.

JAVAN TO SEE CHICAGO

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22.—Prince Christian A. Guldenaar of Batavia, Island of Java, a member of the royal family of India, accompanied by his pretty bride, arrived in St. Louis yesterday from San Francisco. When Prince Christian left Java, he expected to meet former Governor Francis on his arrival in St. Louis and was greatly disappointed on learning that Mr. Francis is in Europe. The prince and his bride spent the day sight-seeing and they expect to leave for Chicago tomorrow evening. From there they will go to Washington and New York, remaining in the United States about six weeks.

JUST LIFE

What We Got Yesterday

We were trailing up the street with water dripping from our clothes. We met a tongue-tied boy.

"Been fithin'?" he queried.

"We have," we replied.

"Fly-fithing?" he asked.

"Yes," we said.

"Git emmy bath?"

"All we could carry," we remarked, as we wrung the water out of our coat tail, to the music of water oozing from our shoes at each step.

What May Happen

When Bob La Follette got into the United States senate, there was an earthquake in California, and now that he has taken the stump for Lenroot, there is another earthquake in South America. If he should be elected to the presidency, hell might break loose.—Edu Claire Leader.

New Reform Party

Yesterday a dispatch from Cincinnati told of the organization of a new Reform political party by one Watson of San Francisco, which was to have truth, anti-graft, honesty and anti-trust as its platform. Mr. Watson had chosen at random one name from a list of twelve given him from each city of 30,000 in the country, as national committeemen. A. E. Bleckman, the well known local lawyer, was the honored one in La Crosse.

Though Attorney Bleckman did not get chesty immediately he had prepared to don a plug hat and Prince Albert today when the following telegram came to The Tribune from a Cincinnati news bureau:

"CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 22.—Organizer who appointed Attorney Bleckman of La Crosse national committeeman, is insane on politics and has been arrested."

Mr. Bleckman now has detectives engaged in discovering who sent him the name of the reformer.

"Anybody who will try to organize another political party, on top of the snag of 'em we have, should certainly be declared crazy," remarked Attorney Bleckman as he stopped at a street fountain to quench his thirst for revenge.

"I had the honor to meet John D. Rockefeller in Compeigne while I was touring France in my motor car this summer," said a Pittsburg millionaire.

"Mr. Rockefeller is gifted with a superb sense of humor. In his quiet, serious way he makes you laugh again and again. Apropos of economy, he told a story about the Scottish millionaires of Manchester.

"A hundred years ago a number of poor Scottish lads came to Manchester, took up cotton spinning there, and by the hardest work and the strictest economy became in the end, every mother's son of them, millionaires. One of these young men only paid in his early days 1 shilling and 6 pence a week for his room. His landlady decided this was too little, and determined to put up his rent from 1 and 6 to 1 and 8 pence. But this increase the young Scot stoutly resisted. He vowed he would pack up bag and baggage and begone rather than pay a penny more than 1 and 6 pence. He talked and argued for an hour or more and in the end he gained his point. The rent would not be raised. It would remain the same.

"The victorious young man concluded his dispute with his aged landlady with an axiom—an axiom which, Mr. Rockefeller said, ought to be noted well by the young. 'It isn't that I mind muckle for the odd tuppence,' he said, 'but ye ken, Betty, it's the breaking into a fresh piece o' silver.'"

Shot to Death in a Saloon Congress Spent Nearly Billion

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22.—Jacob Yasillio, 42 years old, a city street cleaner, was shot and killed Sunday night by Anthony Taglio after the former had shot and probably fatally wounded the latter's brother, Joseph Taglio, in a saloon at 205 Plymouth court, conducted by the Taglio brothers.

The shooting was the result of a quarrel between the two Taglio brothers and Yasillio. The latter was using profane language while Antonio Masteria, a foster daughter of Joseph Taglio, was in the saloon.

Yasillio, who wears an artificial leg, carried a cane and when Anthony Taglio remonstrated with him Yasillio struck him. Joseph Taglio, who was behind the bar at the time, ran to his brother's assistance and he was struck and knocked down. Yasillio then drew a revolver and discharged it at Joseph Taglio, who was lying on the floor of the saloon. The bullet struck him in the abdomen and inflicted a fatal wound. Seeing this, Anthony Taglio obtained a weapon and shot Yasillio.

George Gagne, 3543 Vernon avenue, owner of a saloon at 214 Thirty-fifth street, was arrested by the police of the Stanton avenue station early Sunday morning, charged with discharging firearms within the city limits and an attempt to kill John Mueller, 3519 Rhodes avenue. Gagne, the police say, assaulted Mueller several days ago when he entered his house and also charged him with alienating the affections of his wife.

Mueller swore out a warrant and Gagne was arrested on a charge of assault, but was later released on bonds. Early yesterday morning after closing his saloon Gagne was returning to his home when he met Mueller. The quarrel between them was renewed and Gagne is said to have struck Mueller, who had a gun. The saloonkeeper then fired five shots at Mueller, who after discharging his weapon ran east in Thirty-fifth street and escaped. Neither was injured.

Rich Old Woman is Murdered

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 22.—Marks of a hypodermic syringe upon the arms of Miss Harriet Blinn, a prosperous octogenarian, whose disappearance on July 11 was a mystery until today, may lead to the arrest of two persons, according to Acting Coroner Sellers. Cab rides with strangers, secret interviews with persons whom her relatives had never seen before, and the peculiar reticence of the aged woman just prior to her disappearance have given added mystery to the case, but the coroner's detectives are rapidly clearing the maze.

They discovered that the body of Miss Blinn lay in an undertaker's for nearly a month before it was taken in charge by one of her relatives and sent to Great Barrington for burial. They have learned that within a few weeks of her death, the woman was to receive a big portion of the money left by the late Alonzo Hamlin, a business man of Chicago, who, in dying, made her one of his heirs.

A woman is known to have taken Miss Blinn from the house where she was staying with relatives and placed her in the Camden hospital. Later the octogenarian was discharged and then admitted to St. Mary's hospital in this city. She was taken to a local hospital in a closed carriage, and the police will not say who accompanied her. It has been learned, however, that the woman's arm was covered with marks from a hypodermic syringe, and it is believed that the injections may have accentuated the disease of the heart from which she was suffering.

Detectives also have learned that when Miss Blinn disappeared she had just made her will, making a Camden minister her executor and her nephew her principal legatee. Five days after her disappearance, this will was offered for probate.

A cousin and another relative announced their intention of fighting the will in court. They say they will make sensational disclosures when the case comes to trial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—According to a statement issued yesterday by Thomas P. Cleaves and James C. Courts, chief clerks of the senate and house committees on appropriations, congress at its last session appropriated for the fiscal year 1907, $879,589,185.16, an increase of $59,404,550.20 over the sum appropriated for 1906. Of the net increase, $42,447,201 was for the Isthmian canal.

The new offices and employments specifically authorized number 6,934, at an annual compensation of $6,615,870; and those abolished or omitted number 5,285, at an annual compensation of $4,010,109, a net increase of $1,649 in number and $2,605,761 in amount.

GIRLS GAGGED AND CARRIED AWAY BY GANG

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 22.—Hazel Jackson, 18 years old, and Mamie Cross, aged 19, are both ill at the Jackson home, 6316 South Broadway, as a result of having been attacked by a dozen men in a desolate place on Broadway, south of the city limits, Saturday night. The girls were bound, gagged, and carried forcibly into a grove.

Nine men have been arrested in connection with the case. Warrants charging assault were issued yesterday by Justice Noerper against six of them.

Miss Cross, pale and haggard, told this story of the attack:

"We had walked half a block, and were talking about the men we had danced with, when some one, suddenly, without making any noise, placed a hand over my mouth from behind. At the same time another person sprang from the side of the road and grabbed Hazel.

"I tried to cry out. The fellow stuffed a handkerchief into my mouth. Then I struggled to get free, and two other men came to the assistance of my assailant.

"They picked me up easily, for I was weak and could not defend myself, and carried me towards the entrance to Horn's grove, just across the street. As we got a little closer to the light, I recognized the man who first seized me as Duffy, with whom I had been dancing most of the evening. The others were men I had seen in the hall.

"I tried to call Hazel, and once succeeded making a sound. Then they stuffed the handkerchief tighter into my mouth.

"I saw the man who had taken hold of Hazel also had been joined by other men and they were bringing her toward the grove, one man holding his hand over her mouth. It was so dark when they got us inside the woods I could hardly see the men who were carrying me, and lost sight of Hazel entirely.

"Then they carried me to a place that seemed to be far away from the street and tore my clothes and struck me. Later they carried me back, and left me, half a mile, it seemed to me, from where they had first taken me. Then they went away. I heard some one call for me weakly. Sitting on the ground with her clothes torn I found Hazel.

"For awhile neither of us was able to walk. When we felt stronger we started toward town. At the bridge across the River Desperes we met a policeman. We told him what had happened and described the men the best we could.

"I think every one in the crowd was at the dance hall and that they were led by the two men who had danced with me and Hazel most of the evening."

His Quest. "Oh, where do you journey, my brother, So far from the club and the town?" "I patiently search for another Rich heiress who won't turn me down."

A Rapid Pace. "That young man is going pretty swift, isn't he?" "He has to or his debts would overtake him."

Quite Right. "What sort of joke is the most enjoyable?" "The one that a pretty girl dimples at."

Sure Sign. "How very polite Mrs. Brown was this morning?" "Then she must be mad at you."

Ambiguous. She—Are you fond of hot biscuits? He (meaningly)—That depends upon who makes them.

CHICAGO UNDERTAKERS
BOOST THEIR PRICES

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22.—Chicago is at present the seat of a war which threatens to make dying a luxury to be indulged in only by the rich. The undertakers are in arms against the Metropolitan Elevated railway on account of the funeral trains which that company is running to the five cemeteries on its route—Waldheim, Concordia, Oakridge, Forest Home and Mount Carmel—and prices for hearses and carriages are soaring.

The Metropolitan company started about a year ago to run funeral trains, one coach for the corpse and special mourners and as many others as might be desired for the members of the cortege. Although since the

MORE THAN MONEY
A Minister Talks About Grape-Nuts

"My first stomach trouble began back in 1895," writes a minister in Nebr., "resulting from hasty eating and eating too much. I found no relief from medicine and grew so bad that all food gave me great distress. It was that sore, gnawing, hungry feeling in my stomach that was so distressing and I became a sick man. Grape-Nuts was recommended as a food that could be easily digested."

"Leaving the old diet that had given me so much trouble, I began to eat Grape-Nuts with a little cream and sugar. The change effected in 24 hours was truly remarkable, and in a few weeks I was back to health again."

"My work as a minister calls me away from home a great deal, and recently I drifted back to fat meat and indigestible foods, which put me again on the sick list."

"So I went back to Grape-Nuts and cream and in four days I was put right again. The old dull headaches are gone, stomach comfortable, head clear, and it is a delight to pursue my studies and work."

"Grape-Nuts food is worth more than money to me and I hope this may induce some sufferer to follow the same course I have."

PREACHERS ARE AGAINST CUMMINGS

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 22.—Because Claude R. Porter, democratic nominee for governor, who is an elder in the Presbyterian church, has taken the foremost position against liquor traffic in Iowa, a movement has been started by the Rev. A. C. Douglas, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Des Moines, to elect him. In accordance with this the Rev. John Acheson, United Presbyterian pastor here, today announced that though he always had been a republican, he would hold Cummings.

"For the first time in years," he said, "no whisky plank is in the democratic platform. All Christians should oppose Cummings."

In his sermon last night, the Rev. Mr. Acheson denounced Cummings at length, comparing with Absalom "who made a campaign against his father, King David, to capture the kingdom." "Gov. Cummings," he added, "now is kissing everybody's hand—the hand of the church and the hand of the saloon—but the saloon receives most of his affection."

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 22.—In a proclamation issued late yesterday designating Sept. 3 as Labor day, Governor Davidson says:

"That the day may be properly observed and that the motive which promotes its establishment may be advanced, I recommend that all industrial institutions generally suspend operations and that so far as possible, employers and employees alike join in the celebration of Labor day."

RECRUDESCENCE OF GUATEMALANS

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 22.—Leaders of the late revolution in Guatemala will meet in New York city some time next month, where it is believed they will disclose their plans for a new uprising, which is expected to occur within a year.

General Barilla is now in San Francisco. General Castillo is in Honduras. General Toledo is in Nicaragua, and Colonel Pinedo is in New Orleans. Well informed people in Central America predict that another and much better prepared revolution with the object of overturning the Cabrera administration in Guatemala is certain to be attempted. They deny that there is any real satisfaction in Guatemala among the people because of the restoration of peace and assert that Cabrera was only saved by the intervention of the United States and Mexico, which intervention was largely due to a wish to prevent war between Salvador and Guatemala while the pan-American congress was in session at Rio de Janeiro.

The revolutionists believe their chances will be better on the second attempt and that they will have plenty of arms and ammunition.

It is said that the Puritans stopped bear-baiting—not because it caused pain to the bear, but because it afforded pleasure to the spectators. If your landlord, your partner or your employer seeks to "rule" you on the same theory, "kick over the traces" and read the want ads.

STRIKING INDIAN NOMENCLATURE.

"Muskoka," "Clear Sky Land," "Magnetawan," "Smooth Flowing Water," "Kawartha," "Bright Water and Happy Lands," "Temagami," "Deep Water" are Indian words that fittingly describe some of the most delightful spots for a summer's outing on the American continent. All reached by Grand Trunk Railway System. Double track from Chicago to Montreal and Niagara Falls.

Descriptive literature, timetables, etc., will be mailed free on application to Geo. W. Vaux, A. G. P. & T. A., 135 Adams St., Chicago.

"The Quest of the Useful" is the errand of the multitude—made easier, in half its aspects, by the fixed habit of "ad-reading."

TERRIFIC

One of the strangest freaks was played by the bolt which passed to the north of the house. A part of this must have gone to the front as it passed through the door which leads out upon the balcony, burning a hole a foot in diameter through the screening in the door above and below the center panel. Another branch of the bolt passed through the top of the door tearing away the boards.

A piece of wood about two inches wide and an inch thick, and about eighteen inches long was carried straight across the balcony and driven diagonally into the two-by-four under the eaves. It did not split the "2x4," but was driven in just solid as a nail could have been driven by a hammer. It is a strange freak and was viewed by a large number of people this morning.

The picture moulding was knocked off the rooms of the Edwards' and Brakke residences a few feet north and Henry Kneches says that his home south of there was also badly shocked and that the rooms were filled with fumes of sulphur and blue smoke.

J. B. Callahan who resides across the street says that his chandelier was ablaze for an instant and then went out. He says he heard Miss Wartinbee scream and at once rushed to the telephone and called the fire department, No. 4 responding. They strung 350 feet of hose and extinguished the fire with chemicals, as only a few sparks were found between the walls.

The lower rooms were not damaged, but the stairs which lead down to the front door are literally strewn with plaster and a large amount of it was strewn about every room upstairs.

Fortunately no one was injured, but Miss Belle Wartinbee had a narrow escape. James Wartinbee had gone to work and therefore not in the north room over which the bolt passed.

All of the valley tins along the south gutter look as though some one had started on the bottom and pulled them up, as they all stand out from the roof, although the shingles on each side of them remained intact.

A large number of North side residents say they felt the shock and Charles H. McInnis who resides at 313 Rose street, almost two miles from where the bolt struck, said that the pans were shaken from the walls at his home and dishes fell over on the shelves.

The large corps of employees of the William Doerflinger Park store are having a gay old time this afternoon at Pettibone park, at the expense of the big establishment.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon Kreutz's band led the procession down Main street from the store to the levee, followed by the employees, including the department and general managers. At the levee the employees boarded the steamer City of Hudson and were transported to the park, where a dancing pavilion had been prepared, and there tables were put in order and a gala time was had. There was a baseball game and various prize contests. A fine spread will be served at supper time. There were more than three hundred people who took in the outing, which was arranged by Advertising Manager George B. Frederick.

After having been held without bail to await the action of the grand jury by Magistrate Higginbotham, their counsel, Isaac R. Oeland, had Supreme Court Justice Jaycox release them on a bond of $2,500 on a writ of habeas corpus. Assistant District Attorney Peter B. Smith made a strong plea for $10,000 bail, whereas Attorney Oeland contended that Magistrate Higginbotham had "abused his judicial discretion" by his action. Higginbotham, who had come to the courtroom, vigorously defended his refusal to grant the defendants bail. Justice Jaycox decided that $2,500 was sufficient bail under the circumstances.

Magistrate Higginbotham also held John F. Calderwood, vice president and general manager of the company, and Timothy F. Williams, its treasurer, in $2,000 bail.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 22.—As indicating the success of the war of reprisal being waged by the terrorists against the government it is pointed out that an official compilation of the events of last week shows that fifty-eight officials were murdered and forty-three wounded in Russia proper. The preponderance of the dead over the wounded is a commentary on the deadly accuracy with which the revolutionists are using the bomb.

The statistics still further show that during the week fifty bomb depots were discovered, that six safes were rifled of money and that sixty-three persons were robbed. These official figures do not take into account the pillaging in the country nor do they give the number of military executions or arrests of agitators and revolutionists, and there are no figures showing the number of persons sent into exile.

The St. Petersburg Gazette says that 2,300 persons were banished on Saturday from St. Petersburg alone and that 750 were placed on trains bound for the interior. Prefect of Police Von Lannitz has declared his intention of clearing the capital of all "vagabonds."

The police of this city are being trained in the handling of rapid-fire guns at an arms factory outside of St. Petersburg. A detachment of police is sent there daily for training.

Two more members of the outlawed parliament have been arrested, M. Frankel at Yumani and M. Prituli at Orloffka. Two other arrests of members of parliament have been reported.

The Novoe Vremya in the course of an article published today under the heading "Life and Death Struggle of the Government and the Forces of Anarchy," says the government can accomplish nothing without enlisting the co-operation of society and that it has been held back from efforts in that direction by the unfounded fear that if society should be given arms it would turn them on the government.

RUROPATKIN RESUMES COMMAND OF ARMY

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch)
ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 22.—It is reported Ruropatkin will be recalled to the capital to resume his position as minister of war and that he will reorganize the army.

HELINGSFORS, Aug. 22.—The czar today signed a decree granting free speech to the Finns.

Fire Into Crowd
WARSAW, Aug. 22.—Two citizens were shot and killed today by soldiers. An unknown person from the crowd fired a revolver at Col. Count Fermer, commanding the gendarmes. Wounded soldiers fired a volley into the crowd.

Nose Rings.
The wearing of nose rings is steadily diminishing among the Hindus.

Bride Cake.
Bride cake is a relic of the Roman confarreates, a mode of marriage practiced by the highest class in Rome. In confarreatation the bride was led to the altar by bachelors, but conducted home by married men, and the ceremony took place in the presence of ten witnesses by the Pontifex Maximus, whereupon the contracting parties mutually partook of a cake made of salt, water and flour.

Bananas.
Two tons of bananas can be grown on the space of ground which will produce forty pounds weight of wheat.

Coal Deposits.
Coal deposits of North America are estimated to contain nearly as much as those of Europe, or 681,000,000,000 tons, but even this gigantic figure is dwarfed by Asia's wealth of coal. China is believed to possess inexhaustible supplies.

Cold Baths.
Cold baths in the morning are undoubtedly beneficial, but only to those persons who have sufficient vitality and nervous force to insure good reaction. Many persons who are greatly refreshed by their morning cold bath feel tired or languid two or three hours afterward. When this occurs they should leave the cold bath severely alone.

Fish Scales.
Fish scales can easily be removed by pouring hot water on the fish slowly until the scales curl, then scraping quickly. Wash in several waters, having the last cold and well salted so no slime will be left.

Car of Juggernaut.
The hideous tales of the car of Juggernaut and the hundreds of victims crushed beneath its wheels in the annual processions are lies. The car festivals in India attract each year 100,000 pilgrims, but no one was ever killed beneath the car except by accident.

Horses.
In the mythology of Europe horses have always been considered bearers of luck, and there was a superstition which once was current that the presence of a horse's hoof under the bed would cure certain complaints.

Water In Coal Mines.
The water in coal mines is usually acid, and when it comes in contact with electric lines it forms salts of copper. These salts rapidly disintegrate the copper wire. They also interfere with the working of the insulators; hence it is necessary wherever electric wires are used in coal mines to keep them away from contact with water.

To Keep Nuts Fresh.
To keep nuts fresh throughout the year they should be packed in casks between layers of fine sand.

Gas Industry In Britain.
The gas industry in Britain, according to the Society of British Gas Industries, consists of 1,250 gas companies and local authorities and supplies 4,400,000 consumers. The London companies—i. e., city and suburban within the ten miles radius—included in the foregoing have 945,000 consumers.

Chronology.
The Hindoo chronology extends to 6174 B. C., Babylon 6158 B. C. and China 6157 B. C.

The Earliest Year.
The earliest year consisted of twelve months, having each twenty-nine and thirty days alternately, thus making 354 days. This being found too short, it was lengthened to 360 days and afterward to 365 1/4.

Sealing Wax.
Sealing wax in the present form was first noted in London in the middle of the sixteenth century. A soft of earth was used by the ancient Egyptians in sealing papers and documents. The Egyptians placed such earth on the horns of cattle and upon it stamped the seal of the priest. Thus were identified the cattle to be used in the sacrifices.

Don't Eat When Exhausted.
Remember never to eat heartily when tired to the point of exhaustion. The fatigue with most persons seems to prevent digestion, and a light meal is better until rest has been taken.

Cork.
Cork was known to the Greeks and Romans and was put to almost as many uses as at present, although there is no mention in Rome of linoleum notwithstanding its Roman sound. Glass bottles with cork stoppers for wine and beer did not come into use until the middle of the fourteenth century.

Trees In Churches.
Two English churches possess trees growing within their walls. One is at Ross, the other at Kempsey, in Worcester. The latter tree is well developed and grows from the tomb of Sir Edmund Wilde, which stands on the left side of the chancel.

Cæsar's Calendar.
Cæsar's reformation of the calendar was really made by Sosigenes, B. C. 46.

Pretty Naval Custom.
A pretty little custom is observed in the British navy whenever an officer gets married. Two wreaths are hoisted in the most conspicuous manner and interlocked with them and hanging from them are colored ribbons. These hang from 8 a. m. till sunset on the wedding day. The cost of the wreaths is generally subscribed by the officer's shipmates.

POSITIVELY BRUTAL.

Mrs. Justwed: "I'm going to make a beautiful cake, dear. I do wish you could bring some one home with you to dinner."
Mr. Justwed: "All right, dear. I'll stop at the circus and invite the iron jawed man."

SMILING ON HIS SUIT.

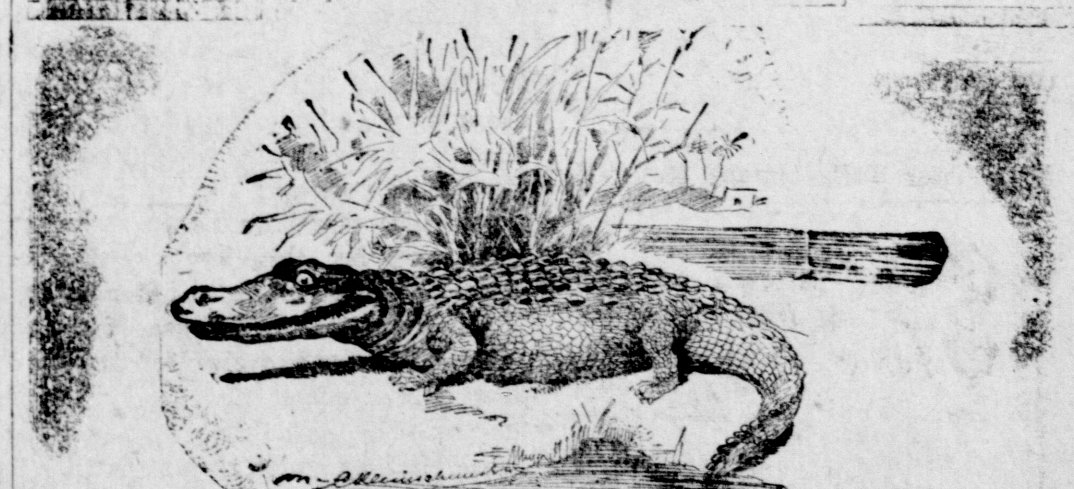

Mrs. Midge: "Your Willie is making love to my Jennie again."
Mrs. Budge: "And does she smile upon his suit?"
Mrs. Midge: "Not this one, but when he wore that one with the green vest and pink sash the poor child used to laugh herself nearly into convulsions."

NO OCCASION NOW.

Aunt: "Johnny, that little boy next door swears like a trooper. I hope you don't play with him."
Johnny: "No, aunt, dear; not now. He's taught me all he knew."

THE CROCODILE.

On the banks of the placid Nile
Lived a beautiful crocodile,
And on his face,
With ease and grace,
He wore a nine foot smile.

NATURAL DEDUCTION.

Gladyes: "I thought you and Grace were intimate friends."
Virginia: "We were at one time, but are not now."
Gladyes: "Ah, I see. What's the young man's name?"

LA FOLLETTE IS CHEERED IN TREMPPEALEAU AND CLARK COUNTIES

NEILLSVILLE, Wis., Aug. 22.—Large and friendly audiences in Trempealeau and Clark counties cheered Senator La Follette yesterday on his tour of the state in the interest of Speaker Lenroot's candidacy for the republican nomination for governor.

The senator was extremely hoarse and the continued excessive heat affected him. But he would not listen to the importunities of friends and twice spoke for two hours, discussing the vital issues involved in the present campaign.

The senator arose at 4:30 yesterday morning to catch a train for Trempealeau, whence he was driven by automobile a distance of twenty miles to Blair, where he addressed an audience of 1,000 or more for two hours. In both Trempealeau and Clark counties his reception was extremely cordial. In both of his speeches he referred to his support of the candidacy of Nils P. Haugen, for the nomination for governor in 1894. He said he had supported Mr. Haugen because he was honest and able and fearless, not because he was of Norwegian birth.

Mr. La Follette's declaration that he proposed to follow the line his sense of duty dictated, though he got down with the man whose candidacy he advocated, never fails to arouse great applause.

Discussion, Not Dictation
The senator also discussed the pernicious activity of federal officeholders. He said that the primary law gave everyone, whether officeholder or private citizen, the right and the duty to say his say regarding the fitness of the various candidates for the final decision vested with the voters in the exercise of a secret ballot. Activity in the open, activity which takes the form of frank and honest discussion, he said, is quite a different matter from back room, dark lantern activity which used corruption for argument and unlawful practices for persuasion.

Senator La Follette told of the fierce opposition of the machine politicians to him ever since his refusal in 1891 as a member of congress to help a great transcontinental railroad grab government lands along its right of way through the Dakotas.

An assemblage of upwards of 1,000 men and women were waiting for Senator La Follette when he arrived at Blair, Trempealeau county. The meeting was held in a large tobacco warehouse near the railroad track, and the people stood patiently for nearly two hours while Senator La Follette, though a sick man himself, exhaustively outlined his views on the fitness of candidates for the leadership of the reform movement in Wisconsin.

The Blair audience was not only a patient one, it was a cordial audience, and applauded and cheered every strong point the senator made. He followed the line of argument that had won respectful attention in Vernon county, calling attention to the great need of able and fearless men in the light in the state during the next two years.

Great Reception at Neillsville
Senator La Follette was met by a great throng headed by Attorney

LETTER TO THE VOTERS

A new broom sweeps clean.
The old one has to be thrown away some time. You will have to have a new district attorney some time. It is generally conceded that the end of the second term is the time to make a change. I am at your service. I am a lawyer. My friend Mr. Bosshard and I are both lawyers. I offer myself as the new broom—I would enforce the laws as the people would have them enforced. More tomorrow.
JAMES THOMPSON.

General Sturdevant, C. M. Bradford, county treasurer of Clark county; S. M. Marsh, candidate for the republican nomination for the state senate, and F. M. Jackson, district attorney of Clark county, when he alighted from the train at Neillsville. The Neillsville band was also in attendance and played patriotic airs at the station while Senator La Follette was shaking hands with the crowd and later at the opening of the meeting in the opera house. The meeting was well attended, over 700 men and women crowding into the little theater. Mr. La Follette frequently aroused his hearers to enthusiasm by his reference to the needs of further legislation to protect the rights of the people against corporate encroachments. He discussed again the great work of reform and the need of strong men to carry the work to completion.

Urges Lenroot's Fitness

The senator spoke more definitely yesterday afternoon than he did Monday about the merits of Speaker Lenroot. He said:

"We have done much in this state, but I tell you there's more to do, there's something else for the next governor to do; therefore, he must be the best man we can get for the place. Will any man who knows the two candidates say that there is any comparison between Speaker Lenroot and his opponent? No one who is honest can say there is. Why then should we hesitate? There is no sentiment in this, I tell you. Government is mighty serious business. If you make a mistake, let me tell you out of the fullness of fifteen years of experience that it is not easy to regain ground once it is lost. It is not pleasant for me to say these things; neither of these men is less dear to me than the other. They are both my friends, and both have labored with me for many years."

KIDNAPPED BOY RETURNS AFTER 8 YEARS

CALUMET, Mich., Aug. 22.—John Piche, aged 14, who was kidnapped eight years ago, and was supposed to have been drowned, returned to his home at Dollar Bay yesterday. Young Piche was passing through Portage Lake on a steamer, and, hearing a passenger talking about the strange disappearance of a child at Dollar Bay, he made inquiries. Finding that the case resembled his own in some respects, he took a train to Dollar Bay, where he found his mother. His father is dead, and his mother is married again.

TRAINS DELAYED BY CLOUDBURSTS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 22.—Floods in Arizona and southern parts of California, as a result of cloudbursts yesterday and last night, have completely tied up the transcontinental lines of the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific.

No trains have gone east from here since last Saturday, and several bound both ways are held at various points. The rain has now ceased, and conditions are improving. Both roads expect to have their tracks cleared and traffic moving again by tonight or at furthest by tomorrow morning.

THREE DROWN WHILE CROWDS LOOK ON

FREEPORT, Ill., Aug. 22.—The Pecatonica river, which is away out of its banks because of yesterday's cloudburst, claimed three victims yesterday.—Leopold W. Kaiser, 12 years old; Harry Sweeney, 30, and Oscar Denur, 21. In company with Samuel Marker, John Schmides and Charles Smithke they boarded a gasoline launch for a pleasure trip. Seven miles up the river the boat stopped suddenly, whirled about and capsized. All were thrown into the water.

Men and women on the banks watching the river rising witnessed the three men drown and heard their appeals for help. Schmides was able to swim ashore, where he was picked up exhausted. Marker clung to a willow until he grabbed a rope that was thrown to him by a man on the bank, while Smithke caught a log floating down the stream and he too, was hauled to shore.

There were many narrow escapes from drowning in the streams today and reports indicate that thousands of dollars' worth of damage to crops and bridges resulted in the country districts.

WATERTOWN, S. D., Aug. 22.—John Cochrag, one of the proprietors of the Savoy hotel at Watertown, was drowned while bathing in Lake Kampeska today.

STERLING, Ill., Aug. 22.—Otis Rudd of Kansas City, Mo., was drowned in Rock creek, where he was bathing.

CHINESE DEMONSTRATION AGAINST OPIUM

CANTON, China, Aug. 22.—Uniformed students, carrying banners bearing inscriptions denouncing the use of opium and accompanied by Chinese and foreign bands, have been parading the streets of this city for two days distributing leaflets caricaturing opium smokers.

The Chinese merchants, who approve the demonstration, presented five of the banners to the students. The latter were led by a mounted Chinaman dressed like an Indian, with blackened face and carrying a pipe, representative of India, which supplies China with much of the drug.

MANITOWOC GIRL BELIEVED TO HAVE ELOPED

MANITOWOC, Wis., Aug. 22.—Seventeen-year-old Gertrude Wilda is missing and is believed to have eloped either with an Escanaba youth with whom she corresponded or with an employee of the Mundy sarnial shows which appeared here two weeks ago. The girl left home Saturday morning and was traced to Milwaukee where she was seen in company with a young man. The Milwaukee police could get no trace of the couple. Brothers of the girl are conducting the search.

BROTHER'S BLOOD SAVES HIM

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 22.—Because his brother Samuel allowed one-half of his blood to be transferred into his veins, Joseph Miller is on the road to recovery at St. Alexis hospital, where he was given up as dying two weeks ago. It is the first time on record that transfusion has been successful with human patients. The operation was performed by Dr. Crile. Three weeks ago Miller underwent a severe operation, which was followed by internal hemorrhages and his life was despaired of. He rallied at once after the fresh blood was infused into his veins. The physicians say he will be out in a few days.
